"But we had hoped...": The Road We've Traveled; the Road that Lies Ahead

Eleanor Bernstein

Document Type
Article

Publication Date
2003

Abstract
(Excerpt)
It is a privilege to be here with you at this annual gathering to explore matters of consequence affecting our churches at the beginning of this new millennium. I feel honored to be invited into the ongoing conversation of the Institute of Liturgical Studies. I've had opportunities to cross paths with many in this Lutheran family through associations at the Liturgical Conference, the North American Academy of Liturgy, and Notre Dame, and all have been positive and enriching experiences. My contacts have served to deepen my appreciation of the strong commitment of the Lutheran churches to promoting life-giving worship within congregations. I am inspired by the desire for unity that runs deep in the Lutheran soul.

Recommended Citation
Bernstein, Eleanor, "But we had hoped...": The Road We've Traveled; the Road that Lies Ahead" (2003). Institute of Liturgical Studies Occasional Papers. 101.
https://scholar.valpo.edu/ils_papers/101